

ARRAN DEVELOPMENT TRUST

Information Individual Participants

The Scottish Government wants to make Scotland fairer and more equal following the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic.

It's asked the Social Renewal Advisory Board (SRAB) to come up with ideas to help. A fair housing system, where we all have a safe place to call home, will be an important part of making Scotland more equal.

The Housing System Policy Circle is part of SRAB and wants to know what you think about housing in Scotland. They are inviting you to share your thoughts on housing, both before and during the current pandemic. Your stories and experiences of housing will be part of the evidence they use to suggest ideas to the Scottish Government.

You're invited to answer all or some of the following questions:

- What are the biggest housing problems you have faced during the coronavirus pandemic?
- How can the Scottish Government make the housing system work better for you in future?
- In the longer-term what does a good housing system for everyone look like? What actions do we need to make this happen and who should take them?

SRAB and the Housing System Policy Circle will only use this information to develop ideas for the Scottish Government. They will anonymise responses so you cannot be identified in the published reports. Arran Development Trust will not share your personal details with the Scottish Government or the SRAB. However, we may share details of your personal circumstances or relevant characteristics (e.g. age, disability, race, sex, urban/rural location, household size) if you provide this information in your response. Participation is entirely voluntary and you can opt out at any time, without having to give any a reason.

[Add further GDPR/Privacy Policy details for intermediary organisation]

If you would like to take part, please complete the form below and send it to housingsystempolicycircle@gov.scot. We look forward to hearing your views and experiences.
